GRADE 10 - UNIT ONE - READING COMPREHENSION

- Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

How do you remember the way to your friend's house? Why do your eyes blink without you ever thinking about it? Your brain is in charge of these things. In fact, your brain is the boss of your body. It runs and controls just about everything you do, even when you're asleep. Not bad for something that looks like a big gray wrinkly sponge.

A brain has many different parts that work together, for example, the Cerebrum, Brain Stem, Pituitary Gland and Hypothalamus. The biggest part of the brain is the cerebrum. The cerebrum is the thinking part of the brain and it controls your voluntary muscles — the ones that move when you want them to. So you need your cerebrum to dance or kick a soccer ball. You need your cerebrum to solve math problems, and draw a picture. Your memory lives in the cerebrum — both short-term memory and long-term memory. The cerebrum has two halves. Scientists think that the right half helps you think about abstract things like music, colours, and shapes. The left half is more analytical, helping you with math, logic, and speech.

Another important part of the brain is the cerebellum which is a lot smaller than the cerebrum. It controls balance, movement, and coordination, how your muscles work together. Because of your cerebellum, you can stand upright, keep your balance, and move around. Think about a surfer riding the waves on his board. He needs his cerebellum to stand and control his movement. The brain stem is in charge of all the functions that your body needs to stay alive, like breathing air, digesting food, and circulating blood. The pituitary gland is very small. Its job is to produce and release hormones into your body. The hypothalamus is like your brain's inner thermostat. The hypothalamus knows what temperature your body should be. If your body is too hot, the hypothalamus tells it to sweat. If you're too cold, the hypothalamus gets you shivering.

From a, b, c and d, choose the correct answer:

- c. Abstract Knowledge
- d. The Pituitary Gland

- a. controls everything.
- b. keeps your body on low temperatures.

- a. We blink without thinking about it.
- b. We need the cerebellum to solve problems and draw pictures.

GRADE 10 - UNIT ONE - SUMMARY MAKING

- Read the following passage, then do as required:

Caves were" homes" which served only as temporary shelters. They protected humans from the sun, rain and wild animals which roamed forests. Men of that time were called "Cavemen". Cavemen usually lived in small groups and life was very difficult. They had to move from place to place in search for food. They would catch fish or pick berries and wild fruit. When a particular place where they stayed ran out of food supply, they would leave to find another suitable spot. Their tools and weapons, which were made of stones, were simple and rough. Cavemen ate their food raw until they learned how to make a fire. For clothing, they used only barks of trees or skins of animals they had hunted to cover their bodies.

In FOUR sentences, summarize and paraphrase the previous passage in answer to the following question:

How was the lifestyle of Cavemen?

GRADE 10 - UNIT TWO - READING COMPREHENSION

- Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

Persuasion is the art of convincing someone to agree with your point of view. According to the ancient Greek philosopher Aristotle, there are three basic tools of persuasion: ethos, pathos, and logos.

Ethos is a speaker's way of convincing the audience that he/she is a credible source. An audience will consider a speaker credible if he/she seems trustworthy, reliable, and sincere. This can be done in many ways. For example, a speaker can develop ethos by explaining how much experience or education he/she has in the field. After all, you would consult a dentist not a firefighter for a tooth ache. A speaker can also create ethos by convincing the audience that he/she is a good person who has their best interests at heart. If an audience cannot trust you, you will not be able to persuade them.

Pathos is a speaker's way of connecting with an audience's emotions. For example, a speaker who is trying to convince an audience to vote for him might say that he alone can save the country. These words are intended to fill the audience with fear, thus making them want to vote for him. Similarly, a charity organisation that helps animals might show an audience picture of injured dogs and cats. These images are intended to fill the viewers with pity, which will make them donate money.

Logos is the use of facts, information, statistics, or other evidence to make your argument more convincing. An audience will be more likely to believe you if you have data to back up your claims. For example, a commercial for soap might tell you that laboratory tests have shown that their soap kills all 7,000,000 of the bacteria living on your hands right now. This piece of information might make you more likely to buy their brand of soap. Presenting this evidence is much more convincing than simply saying "our soap is the best!" Use of logos can also increase a speaker's ethos; the more facts a speaker includes in his argument, the more likely you are to think that he/she is educated and trustworthy.

GRADE 10 - UNIT TWO - SUMMARY MAKING

- Read the following passage, then do as required:

There are people who have much more than what they need to live while others have barely enough to survive. One cannot make them rich but can provide them with essentials. Raising donations such as money, clothes, food, or shelter helps to direct their efforts to live a decent life. Good education ensures a long-lasting improvement in their lives. Building relationships among them helps them regain their self-confidence and self-esteem while also making them hold their own responsibility. Moreover, treating them well and enrolling them in the bigger society could make them work harder to gain the society's trust and respect.

In FOUR sentences, summarize and paraphrase the previous passage in answer to the following question:

| "How can we help the needy?" | | | | | |
|--|--|--|--|--|--|
| The summary should include the following points: | | | | | |

GRADE 10 - UNIT THREE - READING COMPREHENSION

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Most of the serious health problems in modern America can be linked to poor diet. Many people regularly consume foods high in sodium, sugar, and saturated fats Which not only increase their chances of obesity, but also increase their risks of developing heart disease and diabetes. There are many reasons for having poor diet. Some people do so knowingly. There is also a significant portion of the population that remains undereducated about proper nutrition. What is more, individuals who live in food desert-areas in low-income neighbourhoods may not even have the opportunity to obtain nutritious food.

Food deserts are located in high-poverty areas, such as rural areas or densely populated, low-income urban centres away from modern neighbourhoods. Food deserts most often develop when major supermarket chains either relocate out of these areas or simply refrain from building stores there. This means that those who live in high-poverty areas often also live miles away from the fresh meats, dairy products, and fresh fruits available at supermarkets. Residents of these areas who do not have cars are thus forced to travel long distances on public transportation to do their grocery shopping. They are limited to the food available at local convenience stores which sell packaged and processed foods that offer little nutritional value.

Fast food restaurants are extremely concentrated in low-income areas. Because individuals who live in food deserts tend to get their meals from fast food restaurants or convenience stores, they often suffer from a variety of health issues. Research has found that individuals who live in low-income neighbourhoods are much more likely to develop problems with obesity, diabetes, and hypertension than those who live in more affluent neighbourhoods.

A solution to the problem of food deserts seems obvious: more supermarkets should be built in low-income neighbourhoods. Of course, it is difficult to lure supermarket chains into poor areas because poorer people have less money to spend on food and supermarket chains do not consider them to be attractive customers. One way that the government can help to settle this issue is by offering tax breaks or other incentives for supermarkets in low-income areas. Moreover, Community gardens and farmers' markets should offer local initiatives to solve the problem.

From a, b, c and d choose the most correct answer:

 - b. the supermarkets would be unable to compete with the fast-food chains.
 - c. the convenience stores in the area would stop their business.
 - d. the health of low-income residents would be more likely to improve

GRADE 10 - UNIT FOUR - READING COMPREHENSION

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Normal life never stays normal for long simply because it is full of stress. Stress is often described as a feeling of being overloaded, wound-up, tense and nervous. We all experience stress at times. It can sometimes be positive and help to motivate us to get a task finished, or perform well. But stress can also be harmful if we become over-stressed and it interferes with our ability to get on with our normal life for too long.

When we face a stressful event, our bodies respond by activating the nervous system and releasing hormones such as adrenaline and cortisol from the adrenal glands. These hormones cause physical changes in the body which help us react quickly and effectively to get through the stressful situation. They prepare our bodies to stay and fight or flee the situation. This is sometimes called the 'fight or flight' response. The hormones increase our heart rate, breathing, blood pressure, metabolism and muscle tension.

While these changes help people try to meet the challenges and effects of the stressful situations, they can cause negative physical or psychological symptoms if stress is not controlled. These symptoms can include headaches, other aches and pains, anxiety, anger, depression, high blood pressure, heart diseases, lack of confidence and many other symptoms.

Learning to handle stress in healthy ways is very important. Fortunately, it is easy to learn simple techniques. These include recognizing the causes of stress (some stress is natural), taking steps to deal with the problem, tackling the symptoms and most importantly, asking for help from a friend or a professional. The worst thing for stress is trying to take control over uncontrollable things. Because when we fail — since it's beyond our control — we only get more stressed out and feel helpless. Doing what's within our power moves us forward and is empowering and energizing. In addition to that, having certain routines throughout the day helps us to relax, better enjoy what we have in our lives and manage the harmful effects of stress. These routines include regular times for exercise and relaxation and planning ahead to do certain jobs on specific days of the week.

GRADE 10 - UNIT FIVE - READING COMPREHENSION

- Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

It was one of those terribly hot days in Baltimore. We always had those for a month between July and August. That day was particularly hotter than I could remember it had ever been. The weatherman on the radio said the temperature would reach 104°!

Needless to say, it was too hot to do anything outside. But it was also scorching in our apartment. This was 1962, and I would not live in a place with an air conditioner till ten years later. So, my brother and I decided to leave the apartment to go to a cooler place. I suggested the drug store where I could get a soda or any kind of juice. But he reminded me that the shopkeeper in the drug store would not let you sit there all day. My brother instead suggested watching a movie. It was a brilliant plan.

Movie theatres were one of the few places where you could sit in for a long time and, more importantly, sit in air conditioning. In those days, you could buy one ticket and sit through both movies of a double feature. Then, the theatre would show the same two movies again after that. If you wanted to, you could sit through them twice. Most people did not do that, but the manager at our theatre, Mr. Bellow, did not mind if you did. That particular day, my brother and I sat through both movies twice, trying to escape the heat. We sat and watched The Music Man, followed by The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance. We'd already seen the second movie once before. It had shown at the theatre since January, because Mr. Bellow loved anything with John Wayne in it. Watching it again was better than going outside, and at least The Music Man was new to us. We left the theatre around 8 PM, just before the evening shows began. We returned the next day and saw the same two movies again, twice more. And we did it the next day too.

Finally, on the fourth day, the heat wave broke. Still, to this day I can sing half the songs in The Music Man and quote half of John Wayne and Jimmy Stewart's dialogue from The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance! Those memories are some of the few I have of the heat wave of 1962.

A. Choose the correct answer from a, b, c, and d:

- 1- What is the main idea of the 3rd paragraph?
 - a. Why movie theatres were important during the hot days.
 - b. What kind of movies they watched.
 - c. The effects of childhood memories.

 - c- dropping
 - d- freezing
 - 3- The underlined word "it" in the 3rd paragraph refers to:
 - a. the heat
 - b. the theatre
 - c. the second movie
 - d. that particular day
 - 4- Why wasn't the idea that the writer first suggested nice?
 - a. Because the drug store didn't let children enter drug stores.
 - b. Because there was no air conditioner in the drug store.
 - c. Because the drug store wouldn't let people stay there for a long time.
 - d. Because they wanted to watch a movie.
 - 5- All the following statements are TRUE EXCEPT:
 - a. They boys watched the movies more than once.
 - b. They didn't want to stay home.

GRADE 10 - UNIT FIVE - SUMMARY MAKING

- Read the following passage, then do as required:

Many students find that preparing for each individual class for 60-90 minutes per day will leave them well prepared for the real exam. Experts think that students should not cram at the last second. They would recommend that students should keep their ears open in class. Their teachers will sometimes tell them about the exam study strategies. They should be in class every day to receive such help. They insist that students review their class notes on a regular basis. If a student follows these remarks well, he or she will definitely get many A's in his or her exams.

In a paragraph of FOUR sentences ONLY, summarize and paraphrase the above passage in answer to the following question:

What are the best pieces of advice to get many A's?

- Students should not cram at the last second.
- Students should keep their ears open in class.
- Teachers should tell them about the exam study strategies.
- Students should be in class every day.
- Students review their class notes on a regular basis.

GRADE 10 - UNIT SIX - READING COMPREHENSION

Read the following passage carefully, and then answer the questions below:

The village seems almost unchanged. A large area of green vegetation goes around the villagers' homes. Through the trees, you can still see in the main street the same shops that were there when you and I went away. Most of the older villagers have been happy enough to spend their whole lives here. Now, of course, they are used to the place so that they do not want to live away or travel far.

But for many young people, life here is not varied enough to satisfy them. Their parents tell them that city life is very hard and is too competitive to suit them, but the young men mad women answer that conditions in the country are too limited to offer them opportunities for making a good living. Their parents naturally want to keep them. They say work on the land is peaceful. They are very friendly with their neighbours. They share their joys and sorrows. They help each other in misfortune. They are never lonely.

Very often the young men and women do not listen to them. The city has too many attractions to offer, with its busy streets, fine shops, bright lights, cinemas, and other entertainments. Many young villagers earn quite enough money in the city to have a comfortable life. But they do not know how difficult it is to get to work, and what temptations await them. Some succeed, but many more fail. Also, life in the big city is face-paced, fun and exciting but the cost-of-living is typically higher in big cities, and it can cost you a lot of money for a small apartment in a decent area of the city.

Although, the diversity is a good thing, the amount of people can be a bit over-whelming if you are not accustomed to it. There will always be crowds and people around. Some people enjoy this, while others prefer the peace and quiet of a small town. There is always more crime in a big city, causing you to second guess your decision to live in a big city. You are much more likely to be a victim of a crime living in a big city than in a small town. However, there are still many people who prefer to stay in the city and say that they couldn't live anywhere else.

GRADE 10 - UNIT SIX - SUMMARY MAKING

Summary Making

Many health experts call the problem of kids not spending enough time outdoors "nature deficit" disorder. Doctors believe that is because being outdoors stimulates the mind more than sitting around indoors. Even those who usually spend a lot of time outdoors notice a difference when they don't get enough green time. Studies by Cornell University environmental psychologist Nancy Wells show that kids who have easy access to nature areas cope with stress better. Also, they adapt faster when they move to a new place and fight less with family members. In addition, the studies indicate that kids who move to places with more greenery space do better at school and that spending time outside helps improve symptoms for kids with depression and ADHD.

In FOUR sentences, summarise and paraphrase the previous passage in answer to the following question:

VI- READING COMPREHENSION: (80 Marks) Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

If you're feeling down or mentally tired, your phone – which is probably always on and in your hand – might be the problem. A new study has linked feelings of worry, anger, and depression with growing use of smartphones and other devices.

As smart as phones may be these days, teens basically don't know when to stop. To protect your mental health, experts say you must develop ways of diminishing their usage. Cleverly, that involves limiting notifications, deleting some applications, or simply turning smartphones off.

Jean Twenge, psychology professor at San Diego State University, has written a lot on young people and mental health. She recently released a study that shows a link between the use of smartphones and growing rates of depression among teens. The study revealed that teens feelings of sadness and negative thoughts had gone up by 12 per cent between 2010 and 2017. Nearly half of the teens who spend five or more hours a day on a smartphone have mixed feelings of anger and sadness compared to 28 per cent of those who spend less than an hour a day on a device.

"These days, teens can never just step away from social media," said Brian Nolan, a social worker at a secondary school in the US state of Illinois. When your parents were at school they could go out with their friends during the day, and they would relax with their family at night. There was balance. But smartphones don't give that break. The continuous fear of missing out, or the need to feel included, keep teens connected. "A recent study shows that we touch them about 2,500 times a day on average. To tell a student you can't use it is the same as saying you can't eat. That may sound extreme but that's the reality," Nolan said.

School social workers, as well as health experts at hospitals, confirm they are seeing a rise in signs of depression and worry among teens. But they also say, there are things teens, their parents, and professionals can do to help lower the risks. They say that the best way to fight this is to discuss healthy ways to use smartphones.

The bicycle has gone through one full circle of development already. It began as a toy for rich people. Then it was a means of transportation. Now, the bicycle is becoming popular as a means of transportation once more.

The last reason is that they decrease stress levels. Americans are one group of people who are leaving their cars at home.
