Subordinating Conjunctions

(but , although , however , in spite of)

- These conjunctions are used to join two clauses or ideas and this group of conjunctions indicates contrast.

-When it comes to the meaning we find that :

(However = But x Although = In spite of)

Check the following examples :

- 1- Her foot was injured but she managed to walk home .
- 2- Her foot was injured. However, she managed to walk home .

In these two examples , we find that the only difference is the punctuation in the second sentence .

- 3- She managed to walk home although her foot was injured .
- 4- She managed to walk home in spite of her injured foot .

Although is followed by a complete sentence when In spite of is followed by a noun and here we have to mention that In spite of must be followed by a noun or a v. + ing but if we want it to be followed by a complete sentence we can write it as followed:

- I decided to accept the job in spite of the fact that the salary was low.
- I decided to accept the job in spite of the low salary.

Choose the correct answer :

1. We went for a walk it was raining heavily.
a- because b-although c-in spite of d- despite
2. those angry words , we are still close friends.
a- Although b-But c-Because d- In spite of
3. We didn't win the match , our team played very well.
a- However b- In spite c-Although d- Because
4. My brother didn't get the job.....he had all the necessary qualifications
b- even though b- but c- despite d- in spite of

Do as shown between brackets

1- I tried to be free with them. They didn't seem to like me. (Join Using: though)

2- Although Samir worked very hard, he didn't pass the exam. (Join Using: despite)

Correlative conjunctions

(both...and / either ... or / neither ... nor)

Correlative conjunctions are pairs of conjunctions that work together to join two items .

1- both ... and ...

-We use this conjunction to join the same kind of words or expressions.

both + adj. / n. / v. + and

Examples :

1- Leila is pretty . She is smart too .

-Leila is both pretty and smart .

2-He drinks milk. He drinks juice also.

-He drinks both milk and juice.

If the sentence starts with Both , the verb must be plural which means :

am / is	→	are	/	was	→	were
v. + s	→	inf.	/	has	→	have

2- either ... or ...

-We use this one to talk about a choice between two possibilities .

Examples :

1-He's Spanish or Italian .

-He is either Spanish or Italian .

2-We will stay in Kuwait or we will travel to London . We haven't decided yet .

-We will either stay in Kuwait or travel to London.

-If the sentence starts with Either , the verb must follow the second subject.

3- neither ...nor ...

-We use this structure to join two negative ideas (it is the opposite of both ... and) .

Examples :

- 1- The play wasn't well produced or well acted.
- The play was neither well produced nor well acted .
- 2- He doesn't eat healthy food . He doesn't drink milk .
- He neither eats healthy food nor drinks milk.

Reading comprehension

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions: (110 Marks)

Air pollution is made up of gases, dust, odors, particles, smoke, fumes, and other substances which can be harmful to humans, animals, plants, and all living organisms. The air is contaminated and unclean. Air pollution affects the Earth's atmosphere. The atmosphere of the Earth is like a blanket of air which protects all living organisms. Without the atmosphere, life would not exist. The atmosphere protects living things from the heat of the Sun during the day, and at night. It prevents the warm air from escaping. Basically, the atmosphere helps keep the living things on Earth from burning up or freezing.

It is difficult to avoid the pollution in the air since it is the source where people get the oxygen to breathe and live. Pollution can travel with the wind from one place to another and spread over a large number of miles. Pollution can be caused by humans or it can also occur naturally. For example, natural pollution may come from volcanoes, forest fires, wind storms, pollen in the air, and other sources in nature.

The three main causes of pollution by humans include the release of smoke and fumes from manufacturing plants and various industries. Power plants release carbon monoxide and furnaces that burn waste are two examples of man-made pollution. Gasoline refineries also release dangerous chemicals in the air called hydrocarbons. The second cause is the burning of fossil fuels such as from cars, trucks, trains, airplanes. This type of pollution occurs often because people rely on transportation every day. Another main cause of pollution is from household and farming chemicals. On farms crop dusting may pollute the air, homes may be sprayed with chemical to kill bugs or to help the grass grow.

There are several effects of air pollution including acid rain, which is when rain is mixed with the pollution in the air. This acid rain can cause harm to trees, animals, fish, and other living organisms. It can cause problems with breathing and irritation to the eyes, nose, or throat. Sometimes people can also get headaches or have allergic reactions. Long-term effects can include lung cancer, heart disease and other health problems.

READING COMPREHENSION (110 Marks)- Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Coronaviruses are named for their appearance: “corona” means “crown.” The virus’s outer layers are covered with spike proteins that surround them like a crown. Corona viruses were discovered in the 1960s. They are a group of viruses that cause diseases in birds and mammals including humans. At the end of 2019, a new type of coronavirus called COVID-19 started spreading in China. In a short period of time, COVID-19 was able to meet the three required factors to be classified as a pandemic. This includes causing death, person-to-person spread and worldwide spread. It is believed that the virus was transmitted from animals to humans. Unfortunately, when this happened, it took scientists a lot of time before they could develop a vaccine or medicines to cure it.

COVID-19 is diagnosed through a laboratory test. Diagnosis by examination alone is difficult since many COVID-19 signs and symptoms can be caused by other illnesses. However, most people infected with the COVID-19 virus will experience mild to moderate respiratory illness and recover without requiring special treatment. Some of the symptoms are fever, cough, runny nose and headache. Older people, and those with underlying medical problems like diabetes, chronic respiratory disease, and cancer are more likely to develop serious illness because they have a weak immune system.

As of now, researchers know that the coronavirus is spread through droplets and virus particles released into the air when an infected person breathes, talks, laughs, coughs, or sneezes. Larger droplets may fall to the ground in a few seconds, but tiny infectious particles can linger in the air and accumulate in indoor places, especially where many people are gathered and there is poor ventilation. Therefore, mask-wearing, hand hygiene and physical distancing are essential to preventing COVID-19.

Treatment for COVID-19 addresses the signs and symptoms of the infection and supports people with more severe disease. For mild cases of coronavirus disease, your doctor may recommend measures such as fever reducers or over-the-counter medications. More severe cases may require hospital care, where a patient may receive a combination of treatments that could include oxygen and mechanical breathing support.

Vaccines are now authorized to prevent infection with SARS-CoV-2, the coronavirus that causes COVID-19. But until more is understood about how the vaccines affect a person's ability to transmit the virus, precautions such as mask-wearing, physical distancing and hand hygiene should continue to prevent the spread of COVID-19.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c, and d: (5X 10 = 50 Marks)

1- The most suitable title for the passage could be:

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions: (110 Marks)

Right now, I am looking at a shelf full of books, relics, old-timers and antiques. Yes, that's right. If you have some spare cash and are looking to enhance your reading experience, then I highly invite you to purchase an e-reader. E-readers are replacing the old books, and I welcome them with open arms.

An e-reader is a device that allows you to read e-books. An e-book is a book which is published in digital form, consisting of text, images, or both. It is produced on, published through, and is readable on computers or other electronic devices. The Oxford Dictionary of English defines the e-book as "an electronic version of a printed book". E-readers are superior to printed books in many aspects. One of these aspects is saving space. The average e-reader can store thousands of digital books, providing a real library at your fingertips. Moreover, being the size and weight of a thin cover, the e-reader itself is relatively petite. It is easy to hold and can fit in a pocketbook or briefcase easily. Perhaps the only drawback to the space-saving aspect of an e-reader is that it requires you to find new things to put on your shelves.

In addition, e-readers are superior to books because they are environmentally friendly. The average novel is about 300 pages long. So, if a novel is printed 1000 times, it will use 300,000 pieces of paper. That's a lot of paper! If there are about 80,000 pieces of paper in a tree, this means it takes almost 4 trees to make these 1000 books. Since e-readers use no trees, they represent a significant amount of preservation in terms of the environment and its resources.

Finally, e-readers are also superior to books because they provide helpful reading tips and tools that printed books do not. An e-reader allows its user to customize letter size, font, and line spacing. It also allows highlighting and electronic bookmarking. Furthermore, it grants users the ability to get an overview of a book and then jump to a specific location based on that overview. While these are all nice features, perhaps the most helpful of all is the ability to get dictionary definitions at the touch of a finger. On even the most basic e-reader, users can get instant definitions without having to hunt through a physical dictionary.

A- From a, b, c and d choose the correct answer: (5X 10 = 50 Marks)1- The best title for the passage could be:

- a. E-readers: Different Types.
- b. E-readers: Past History.

- c. old books
- d. e-readers

3- The underlined word “petite” in the second paragraph means:

- a. small
- b. attractive
- c. heavy
- d. spacious

4- Which of the following is TRUE about e-readers?

- a. They use large amounts of paper.
- b. They cause harm to the environment.
- c. They require extra furniture in your house.
- d. They cannot be accustomed to users' performances.

5- One of the disadvantages of e- readers is:

- a. Replacing the old books with new ones
- b. Enhancing your reading experience
- c. Still not affordable to everyone.
- d. Saving a lot of paper

B- Answer the following questions: (4 X 15 = 60 Marks)

6- According to the writer, what is the most useful feature of e-readers?

Summary Making (60 Marks)

Read the following passage, then do as required:

It is hard to know where to start when beginning strength training. There are countless exercises you can do. Some of which work with certain bodies, while others don't. With some familiarity of the basics, you can begin to craft a routine helping you achieve your personal goals.

Strength training should be a part of your workout routine due to its numerous benefits. One purpose of strength training is to build muscles and improve bone density. For another thing, strength training increases the strength of ligaments and joint functioning. It can help raise good cholesterol levels and lower blood sugar levels. Most people like strength training because of its most obvious benefit which is having a slimmer appearance.

Summary Making (60 Marks)

Read the following passage and answer the questions below:

Many students find that preparing for an individual class for 60-90 minutes per day, five or six days per week, will leave them well prepared at exam time. For some students, it does not work. That is why practitioners would recommend that students should not cram at the last second. All-nighters simply don't work for most people, and students experience declining returns on their efforts when they attempt to study for four and five hours straight. They would also recommend that students should keep their ears open in class. Their teachers will sometimes tell them about the exam study strategies. They should be in class every day to receive such help. This is particularly true as tests and final exams approach. They insist that students review their class notes on a regular basis.
