Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

Newspapers contain news, information and advertising, and are printed on low-cost paper. They can be daily or weekly, national or local. Newspapers began about five hundred years ago- the first ones were in Germany. In those days newspapers were handwritten and used to be passed from person to person .But they were not very different from today. They had information about wars, economic conditions, social customs and human-interest features. Newspapers used to be very expensive. Poor people could not afford them. But in the 1800s printing became cheaper and ordinary people could afford to buy them. The oldest newspaper still in existence was first published in Australia in 1703.The oldest newspaper in the Arab world is Al-Ahram, which started in 1876.

People who write articles for a newspaper are called "journalists". But no newspaper can afford to send journalists to report on all events, so they buy stories from news agencies around the world. And no newspaper has room for all the stories that happen every day. So the news editor holds meetings where they decide what stories to publish .They also decide where the photos and advertisements will go.

These days, newspapers are cheap because half the cost is paid for by advertising. A lot of people used to read a paper every day. But today fewer people are reading than before. Instead, they go online and get their news from newspaper websites. So in the future newspapers may put all the freshest news online and the printed newspapers will only have articles with opinions and comments.

- a-an announcement in a newspaper, on T.V about something
- b-good shows for entertaining people.
- c-a product that is needed in a society
- d-Photos and pictures shown on social programmes.

3- The word which in (line 11) refers to

- | | |
|--------------------------|---------------|
| a-newspaper in Australia | b-journalists |
| c-newspaper websites | d-Al-Ahram |

Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

Christopher Columbus was the first to take cacao beans from the New World to Europe in around 1502. But the history of chocolate goes back at least 4,000 years! The Spanish explorer Hernando Cortez went to America in 1519. He visited the Mexican emperor Montezuma. He saw that Montezuma drank cacao mixed with vanilla and spices. Cortez took some cacao home as a gift to the Spanish king Charles. In Spain, people began to drink Cortez's chocolate in a drink with chili peppers. However, the natural taste of cacao was too bitter for most people. To sweeten the drink, Europeans added sugar to the cacao drink. As a sweet drink, it became more popular. By the 17th century, rich people in Europe were drinking it. Later, people started using chocolate in pastries, like pies and cakes.

In 1828, Dutch chocolate makers started using a new process for removing the fat from cacao beans. The Dutch chocolate maker Conrad J. Van made a machine that pressed the fat from the bean. The resulting powder mixed better with water. Now, some call Van's chocolate "Dutch chocolate". It was easy to mix Dutch chocolate powder with sugar. So other chocolate makers started trying new recipes that used powdered chocolate. In the 19th century, the Swiss started making milk chocolate by mixing milk powder with sweetened chocolate. Milk chocolate has not changed much since then.

Today, Brazil owns almost half of the world's chocolate. The United States imports most of the chocolate in the world, but the Swiss eat the most chocolate in the world. The most chocolate eaten today is sweet milk chocolate. People also eat white chocolate and dark chocolate. Cocoa and dark chocolate are believed to help prevent heart attacks, or help keep them from happening. They are supposed to be good for the circulatory system. They help the body's cell resist damage caused by pollution. On the other hand, the high fat content of chocolate can cause weight gain which is not good for people's health. Some researches show that chocolate could be good for the brain.

A. From a, b, c and d choose the best answer:

1. The title for the passage is
a) The journey of Christopher Columbus. b) The European Food.
c) The History of Chocolate. d) The Good Food for the Brain.
2. The best synonym for pastries is
a) sweet baked goods. b) bitter-tasting drinks.
c) chocolate bars. d) fizzy drinks.
3. The word it in the first paragraph refers to
a) sugar b) cacao drink
c) Europe d) vanilla
4. The main idea of paragraph two is
a) The chocolate for the brain. b) The discovery of chocolate.
c) The process of changing chocolate. d) The most chocolate eaten.
