Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Every day we see a new model and new software as far as mobile phone is concerned. There is a boom in mobile phone technology. Now, mobile phones are competing with computer and television. In addition, it has become a unique tool where it is substituting computer and television in a single miniature piece. Today, mobile phone is capable to access internet as much as a computer and can download and play a video much like a television.

Mobile phone technology is growing at incredibly faster rate. Now, people are not able to assume what is to come next. People are finding it difficult to cope up with the latest qualities. The fastest growing industry in the history of mankind and in science has to be mobile phone industry. Frequently, the introduction of computerized phone in the market with latest software and accessories has surprised the people, which they never dreamt of. It is not a history but few years back, we remember there was a time when mobile phone concept itself was not born. Few years back, payphone was used to wait in queue for making a call.

The first series of mobile phone in the world was analogue mobile phones. It was just like in dream; everything changed and mobile phone technology taking a turn to change analogue technology into digital technology. People threw their analogue phone and replaced it with a high-tech digital one.

Those few people who were not tuned with changing technology said no to replace their analogue phone with digital, but without any time gap, they had to face the fact that there was no company or service centre to care for these analogue phones. There were no spare accessories, components or mechanics to repair or look after other services. However, it was inevitable to replace the analogue phone with digital to cope up with technology change. Consequently, analogue phone became a history.

Now, let us talk about the years when there were black and white screen mobile phones. Few years later, there was an invention of colour technology that opened up a great charm and many avenues. Capabilities of a mobile phone to play games and access to the internet brought an impact on the industry, then immediately came inbuilt computerized and highly sensitive camera.

VII- Summary Making (60 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the question below:

Printing is a process for reproducing text and images using a master form or template. The earliest non-paper products involving printing include cylinder seals and objects such as the Cyrus Cylinder and the Cylinders of Nabonidus. The earliest known form of printing as applied to paper was woodblock printing, which appeared in China before 220 A.D. Later developments in printing technology include the movable type invented by Bi Sheng around 1040 AD and the printing press invented by Johannes Gutenberg in the 15th century. With the development of computers and mass media technologies, the concept of printing took a whole new shape. The technology of printing played a key role in the development of civilization, and laid the material basis for the modern knowledge-based economy and the spread of education.

In four sentences of your own summarize and paraphrase the above passage in answer to this question:

How has printing developed?
