Communication

Currently, the social networks are becoming more popular among young generation. Therefore, we can say beyond any doubt that modern society prefers to send email or handwritten letters rather than socialize in reality. In my opinion, the face-to-face communication is more effective to build personal relationship but other ways of communication like email and chat are becoming more popular nowadays as they are easy and more convenient.

To begin with, by directly facing with other people individual could enhance his conversational speech by learning new words and improving pronunciation. For instance, communicating with well-educated person could enrich your vocabulary and range of vision. Secondly, there is no doubt that people sometimes want to see the real emotions of a man while he or she writing a letter or an email. Face-to-face communication allows individuals show that feelings entirely put people's faith in saying the truth. Moreover, connecting with people in real life helps easily make new friends at a later stage.

It should also be stated that socializing by Internet also has its benefits. Firstly, people could comfortably confess in some things that could not tell face-to-face. Furthermore, with improving of technological devices it is easier for people to write an email or just call due to the fact that it does not take a lot of time to send a message. Secondly, there are a lot of social networks such as Skype, Facebook and Twitter, which permit individuals keep in touch with friends from other countries all over the world.

To sum up, it is easy to communicate within Internet. Nevertheless, my point of view is...

Mobile Phone

The quickest way to contact somebody is to phone them. Nowadays, the mobile phone plays a vital role in our lives. We use it to connect with people and to organize our daily routine. Nevertheless, I think there are both advantages and disadvantages about it.

To begin with, there are many benefits the phone offers. You can get in touch with people in a matter of seconds and important conversations can be carried out.

Another advantage is that you can always keep up to date with global and current issues. What is more, by using the latest apps for smartphones you can check your profile in social networks and update your status wherever you are.

On the other hand, there are some disadvantages, as well. People, especially teenagers, have become too addicted to using these devices. For example, they use their phones while they are studying at home or having classes at school. Another argument against them is that teenagers talk too much with friends and their parents have to pay enormous bills.

All things considered, the phone is a very important device. It makes our everyday life easier but should be used with a sense of measure.
