November 11th is a Remembrance Day in Canada. They remember the sacrifices made by the soldiers in wars. They also honour those who continue to serve during times of war and peace. But did you know that they also honoured animals who served in the armies next to soldiers? These animals have received a special medal for being brave in wars. It's called the PDSA Dickin Medal! The medal is known around the world. It's been awarded to 36 dogs, 32 pigeons, 4 horses and 1 cat.

Gander, the dog, joined the army in many jobs, and they treated him like a friend soldier. His job was to bark and bite at the legs of the enemy and scare them. Gander saved the lives of seven wounded soldiers during the Second World War.

Beach, the pigeon, served with the Army as a carrier pigeon during the Second World War. It delivered messages between soldiers in the field, sailors on ships and pilots. Soldiers wrote messages on very small pieces of paper. They were put on the legs of the pigeons. It was a dangerous job in all kinds of weather.

Warrior was known as "the horse the enemy could not kill." He arrived on the front lines in 1914. He was trapped in a burning stable and made it out. The horse, Warrior, was honoured because his bravery was an inspiration to the soldiers who faced their fears every day.
