VI- Reading Comprehension (20 Marks )*Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Doctors in Britain are worried because British teenagers eat lots of crisps, sweets and fatty food. Most teenagers don't eat enough fruits or vegetables and more than one million British school children are overweight. Some teenagers say that they don't have time to eat good food, but kids who have a poor diet often have health problems when they are older.

Americans have been familiar with fast food for a long time; it was born there. American fast food is now a part of life far beyond the shores of the United States. McDonald's, Pizza Hut and Burger King have restaurants all over the world. No one can disagree that the idea of fast food at a fair price has its place around the world. These restaurants are popular simply because they fit most people's income and are everywhere.

A regular diet of burgers, fries and soda may seem tasty, but it won't nourish your body with the vitamins and minerals you need to stay healthy. Fast food lacks many important nutrients. Some parents do not like the increase of fast food restaurants where people eat high-calorie foods of low nutritional value. They know how bad for health this is.

Now doctors are giving young people books and games about a good diet. Having a healthy, well-balanced diet can help you feel better and live longer.
