VI- Reading Comprehension (110 marks)Read the following passage and answer the questions below:

Aileen Riffin was born in 1906. Her father was in the navy serving in Philippines. There, she learned to swim at age 6. Around age 11, as she recovered from the flu, her doctor recommended swimming to rebuild her strength. Diving became one of her favourite activities. At that time, many people feared diving as it was too dangerous for women and girls. So, most indoor swimming pools would not let Aileen practise her lovable sport. Aileen decided to find other ways to practice her favourite sport. She joined the U.S Olympic trials. She used an outdoor tide pool; where ocean water gathered between rocks. Female divers dived there. They had to wait for the high tide to practise diving. When conditions were perfect, the tide pool was just like a real swimming pool!

At age 14 Aileen qualified for the 1920 U.S Olympic diving and swim team. Thanks to her qualifications, she was able to travel around the world. On the 13-day journey to Belgium, Aileen practised swimming in a small swimming pool to be physically prepared for the competitions. Conditions at the Olympic Games were not much better since Belgium was still recovering from World War I. The outdoor pools were so muddy, Aileen was afraid that when she dived in, she would get stuck at the bottom forever. During the competition, she overcame her fears and won the gold medal in diving! She became the youngest Olympic gold medalist of her time at age 14.

At the 1924 Olympics in Paris, Aileen again competed in both swimming and diving. She won a silver medal for the 3 metre-springboard event and a bronze medal in the 100 metre-backstroke competition, making her the first person to earn medals in both diving and swimming in the same Olympic year.

Aileen made films, performed all over the world, and later became a sportswriter and she never stopped swimming. At age 85, she broke six world records for her group at the World Masters Swimming Championships. She continued to swim well into her nineties. Up to her death at age 96, she was the oldest living female Olympic medalist.

VI- Reading Comprehension (110 marks)

Read the following passage and answer the questions below:

Fish has been an important food source for people all over the world. It is high in proteins, low in fat, and has many essential vitamins. However, these days, getting fish from the ocean may be damaging both the ocean and its future. Ocean fishing now is a big business, so fishing companies want to get as much fish as possible from the ocean. However, their methods, such as overfishing, fish farming, and bottom searching, are threats to our oceans.

Overfishing is a major threat. It happens when modern, technologically advanced ships hunt for fish. With the equipment on board, these ships can immediately find groups of fish and get them all. In fact, these ships remove fish from the ocean faster than the ocean can replace them. Another problem with overfishing is that the nets catch more than fish; they trap whales, dolphins, and even birds, which are then destroyed.

A fish farm is where large numbers of fish are raised for food. Some people think that fish farming is the answer to overfishing in the ocean. However, fish farming is also damaging the ocean. For example, a typical salmon farm raises thousands of fish. To feed these fish, other, smaller fish are removed from the ocean in huge quantities. In fact, it requires five pounds of ocean fish to produce one pound of salmon. It's clear that fish farming is not the answer.

Bottom searching is a term that describes catching fish at the bottom of the ocean. This happens when ships lower huge nets to the bottom of the ocean. The nets have wheels, which destroy everything they run over. The nets take everything, including many poisonous creatures that cannot be eaten. Moreover, the balance of diverse life that lives there is destroyed. Scientists say that there are still many kinds of undiscovered animals that live there. When they are brought to the surface, many are just thrown away.

In conclusion, our oceans provide us with many benefits, one of which is fish. We need to be careful, however, that our desire for fish doesn't destroy the ocean. Big fishing companies must find alternatives to their practices of overfishing, fish farming, and bottom searching in order to avoid destroying the ocean and running out of the fish we desire.

VI- Reading Comprehension (110 Marks)Read the following passage carefully, and then answer the questions below:

Astronauts are like brave space explorers. They go on missions that change how we see and know things. These space travelers face lots of interesting challenges and have special experiences that make their lives extraordinary.

When astronauts are inside their spacecraft, there's no gravity. This means things are a bit weird. They float inside and gently push off walls to move around. Everything not tied down floats freely in this space without gravity. Eating is tricky because without gravity, food bits might go into their noses or eyes. Smartly designed containers with straws and Velcro strips help keep things in order and prevent items from floating around.

Staying clean in space is different too. Astronauts can't take regular baths, so they use damp sponges. They also use special shampoos that don't need water. Even sleeping isn't simple. Astronauts tie themselves to their beds, so they don't float away during sleep, showing how adaptable they are to life beyond Earth.

Even with the challenges, astronauts stay connected to Earth. They send emails and chat with family and friends. Feeling homesick is something they all get, making their space journey more touching. They also make video calls and share messages, keeping a close link. Astronauts bring photos and mementos from home to feel connected. Care packages from Earth with familiar things bring comfort. Even in space, their bond with family stays strong, making them stronger together.

Going outside the spacecraft requires special spacesuits. These suits not only protect astronauts but also help them breathe and control their body temperature. The mix of super cool technology and the strong human spirit helps astronauts face challenges with patience and caution.

Astronauts bring an adventurous spirit to everything, whether in their small spacecraft or the vastness of space. Their strong commitment, along with amazing space technology, opens new possibilities and inspires people to dream big about what's beyond Earth. In every aspect of their journey, from the confined quarters of the spacecraft to the vast expanses of outer space, astronauts embody an adventurous spirit that fuels their commitment to scientific exploration. Their unwavering dedication, coupled with the marvels of space technology, opens new frontiers, and inspires generations to dream beyond the bounds of Earth.

We shouldn't also forget that achieving success adds value to us. It is deep in our nature that we love the taste of winning. VII - Summary Making (60 Marks)

Read the following passage, then do as required:

Having a dog helps a child learn how to act responsibly. As a dog owner, the child must take care of the animal's daily needs. Therefore, being responsible for a dog also means taking care of the dog so that it stays healthy. Furthermore, the owner must take responsibility for the safety of the dog and the safety of the people it comes into contact with. If the child forgets any of these duties and responsibilities, or ignores any of the dog's needs, the dog will suffer. This teaches the child that his responsibility to the dog is more important than his desire to play with his toys, talk on the phone, or watch TV.
