B) Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

The country of China is located on the continent of Asia. China's land area is nearly the same as that of the United States. The number of people in the United States as of 2019 is about 329,000,000, while the number of people in China is approximately 1,386,000,000. That's a big difference.

In China, you can find hot weather in the south and cold weather in the north. There is a large desert in the west, called the Gobi Desert, and three seas in the east. There are three major rivers in China. All over the country, you can find mountains and hills. The Himalaya Mountains, the world's tallest mountains, cross the southern part of China.

Even though it is a country with a different language and culture, the daily lives of Chinese people are more similar to us than they are different. Adults work, children go to school, and someone cooks the food. Clothes are washed, floors are cleaned, and homework is finished. The biggest difference is that families move through their days speaking Mandarin, the people's language.

B) Reading Comprehension: (16 Marks)

Some people are scared of spiders, or snakes, or high places. But I'm afraid of balloons. I am not the only person who is afraid of them. I read about it on the Internet. There are many people like me. Some are old and some are young. It started when I was little. My mom gave me a balloon with a stick to play with. I was so little, I didn't know what it was. It was bright red. I thought it might be good to eat, like cotton candy. It popped when I tried to take a bite. After that, I wanted nothing to do with balloons. It's not usually a problem. But sometimes it makes me feel shy.

Last week, I went to my friend Lila's 10th birthday party. Of course, there were balloons. I did not feel comfortable! I covered my ears whenever I thought one might pop. The other kids probably thought I was in trouble, I heard one saying "Is he ok?" but I just couldn't help it! Maybe when I grow up, I will invent a kind of balloon that does not make noise when it pops. Then I will have balloons at my parties too!
